New Sleek Look - Identifying Screen Elements

Outlook 2013 looks similar to Outlook 2010 but the tabs, ribbons and groups have a sleek new look. The Ribbon can still be customized so you can put your favorite tools on the Home tab or create new tabs. The Quick Access toolbar (QAT) continues to be a great productivity tool because it is always visible and it can hold your most frequently used commands. The File Tab takes the place of the File menu and has all the old commands (i.e. New, Open, Save, Save As, Print etc.) as well as many new ones (i.e. Account Settings, Mailbox Cleanup, Rules and Alerts. Some of the old dialog boxes remain and can be accessed using the Dialog box launchers that appear in the lower right corner of a group. Another great feature is the View Zoom Slider in the bottom right corner of the screen. The Zoom Slider allows you to quickly change the magnification of the zoom. There is also a view called Reading View in addition to the Normal view. These views can be changed using the view tools to the left of the slider. Reading view hides or minimizes the Ribbon and the other panes so that you have more room to read the content of messages. Outlook 2013 is much more intuitive than all previous versions of Outlook.

Normal & Reading View Zoom Slid View Tools

The Ribbon with Tabs

The Ribbon is a series of tabs displaying tools for the most used functions. When you select a tab, the toolbar changes to reflect commands related to the tab. Tools on a tab are divided into groups, with the group name appearing below the group. Some groups have a little arrow in the bottom right corner called the Dialog Box Launch icon. The Dialog Box Launch icon sometimes launches a dialog box and other times it causes a task pane to appear. For instance, the Dialog Box Launch for the Font group will launch the Font dialog box where the Dialog Launch for Styles will open the task pane on the right side of the screen and display a list of Styles.

Tool Appearance

The appearance of tools change as the size of your Outlook window changes. The sizes and shapes of buttons change and could even collapse into menu options if the window gets small enough (see the Tags group below). If your toolbars look a bit different from the ones displayed in this book, try maximizing your window to see the complete ribbon.

Exercise:

Contextual Tabs

Tabs like Home, Send/Receive and Folder are always visible in Mail view, but other tabs, called contextual tabs are only displayed when needed. The Table Tools tab group is only displayed if you are in the body of an email and working in a table. Notice the Table Tools tab group consists of 2 tabs: Design and Layout. These tabs appear when the insertion point is in a table and disappear when it moves back out. Another contextual tab is the Picture Tools Tab.

The Quick Access Toolbar

The Quick Access toolbar is always visible and therefore an excellent toolbar for your most used commands. While the Ribbon changes according to the selected Tab, the Quick Access toolbar stays the same.

Customize the Quick Access Toolbar

The Quick Access toolbar can be customized very easily. Simply right click on any tool and select Add to Quick Access Toolbar. You can also right click on any tool and select Customize Quick Access toolbar to see all customization options.

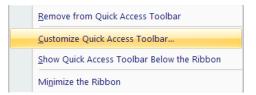

Exercise:

Add the Categorize tool to the Quick Access toolbar.

Categorize Tool

- 1. Select the Home tab.
- 2. Right click the Categorize tool.
- 3. Select Add to Quick Access Toolbar. The tool is added to the end of the toolbar. Later you will learn how to move the tool.
- Remove the Categorize Tool from the Quick Access toolbar.
  - 1. Right click the Categorize tool on the Quick Access toolbar and select Remove from Quick Access Toolbar.
- Add the Print, Quick Print, and Print Selected Attachment tools.
  - 1. Right click the Quick Access toolbar and select Customize Quick Access Toolbar.

- To add the Print and Print Selected Attachment tools, double click each tool in the left column or click on it once and then click Add. These commands are alphabetical so you will have to scroll down the list on the left to find them.
- Add the tools shown in the Quick Access Toolbar dialog box and move to the order shown above using the arrow keys.
  - 1. Select the Command desired and click the Up or Down arrows to move.
  - 2. Add a separator by double clicking Separator at the top of any of the command lists. Move it above Undo using the Up arrow. Click OK.

Screen Tips & Ribbon Display Options

Screen tips display very informative descriptions and shortcut keys (i.e. Ctrl + V for Paste). Ribbon Display Options show three ways of viewing the ribbon. See example below:

Split Tools

Notice that the paste tool looks split in two as you point to it with your mouse. The top part of the tool performs the most frequently desired action i.e. Paste, while the bottom of the tool displays additional options.

View Zoom Slider on the Status Bar

Either drag the slider or click on the Minus or Plus icon to Zoom in or out.

Help

Help is accessed through the question mark in the top right corner of the Title bar at the top of the Outlook screen.

Sneak a Peek - New in 2013

Quickly glance at other views like calendar, tasks and people view without having to go to that folder. Simply hover over the navigation icons at the bottom of the Outlook screen. Click the docking icon in the upper right corner of the Sneak to dock it to the right of a view and click the X to remove it from a view.

Calendar

Sneak a Peek shows today's appointments by default, but you can use the calendar navigator to view any other day simply by clicking the desired date.

Task

The task Sneak a Peek allows you to see existing tasks and type in new ones.

The File Tab - Backstage View

The File menu is where you will find frequently used commands like: Open, Save Attachments, Save As, Print etc. as well as a new Info option that allows you to change Account Settings, do Mailbox Cleanup and set Rules and Alerts, set Options and set Out-of-Office. Everything is organized in a way that is easy to find.

File, Info

This is the first screen that appears when selecting the File Tab. Here you can Change Account Settings, perform Mailbox cleanup and mange Rules and Alerts and setup Automatic Replies (Out-of-Office).

Automatic Replies (Out of Office)

This option would appear on the File Info tab if this account was set up to work with Exchange. Here are the screens you would see with an Exchange account. You can set dates and times for the Automatic Replies to start and end. You can have 2 messages: Inside and Outside your Organization.

File, Open and Export

Open other calendars, open an Outlook Data File, Import or export data and open another User's folder.

File, Print

Shows a preview of your document and allows adjustments to Printer and Page settings.

File, Save and File, Save Attachments

File, Save allows you to save one attachment at a time and File, Save Attachments allows you to save all attachments at once.

File, Office Account

Displays Accounts and User Information and allows you to edit, add or remove information or accounts. Also displays Updates and Help

The Mini Toolbar

The Mini toolbar allows you to quickly format selected text by appearing right next to the text as shown below. When you select text the Mini Toolbar will appear faintly. As you move your mouse closer to the toolbar it gets more pronounced.

Exercise:

- Use the Mini Toolbar to Underline the words "The Mini Toolbar"
  - 1. Type "The Mini Toolbar allows you to quickly format".
  - 2. Select the words "Mini Toolbar" and watch the Mini Toolbar appear. Bold the selected words by clicking the "B" (bold) tool.

Galleries and Dialog Boxes

There are many Galleries in Outlook 2013: Headers, Footers, Styles, Tables, etc. Galleries are collections of presets that can be applied. You can even create your own presets at times. For example, you can add a Header preset or edit or remove one of the existing presets.

Some dialog boxes are still available in Outlook 2013. Dialog boxes can be accessed using the Dialog Launch arrows at the bottom right of some groups on the ribbon and they can be accessed through some menu items that have "More" or "Custom" as an option. For example, the Columns menu has More Columns at the bottom. Selecting More Columns will make the Columns dialog box appear.

Shape Styles Gallery on the Drawing Tools Format tab

Exercise:

- Launch some dialog boxes using the Dialog Box launcher and menus.
  - 1. Click the Font Dialog Box launcher on the Message tab of a new email. Make sure you are in the body of the email or the dialog box will be disabled.

Formatting Themes

Themes are similar to styles, but they apply to an entire email. Themes include theme fonts, theme colors and theme effects. If you format text or graphics manually they will not change as the theme changes, but if you leave the formatting set to automatic they will take on the appearance of new themes as the theme changes.

To see what themes can do, create a new email with text and select Options, Themes. As you point to various themes you can watch the entire look of the email change with Live Preview. Notice there are three tools to the right of the Themes tool. From top to bottom they are: Theme Colors, Theme Fonts, and Theme effects. You can change a Theme which would include all three or select them individually using these tools.

Theme Colors vs. Standard Colors

Theme Colors: If you select a theme color, it is a placeholder color that changes as you change themes. If you select a Standard Color, it will not change as Themes change.

Theme Fonts

Theme Fonts: Are a combination of 2 fonts: a Heading Font and a Body Font. Applying a font with (Headings) or (Body) after the font name will apply a font that will change when the Theme changes, otherwise the font will stay the same. See examples to the right.

Instant Search using the Search Tab

Outlook 2013 has a very fast new way to find information no matter which folder you are in. It highlights every found instance of the item in yellow and it displays each individual result of your search immediately. There is also a great context Search tools Search tab that appears when you click in the search box. This tab helps you narrow and expand the scope of your search to find items in seconds!

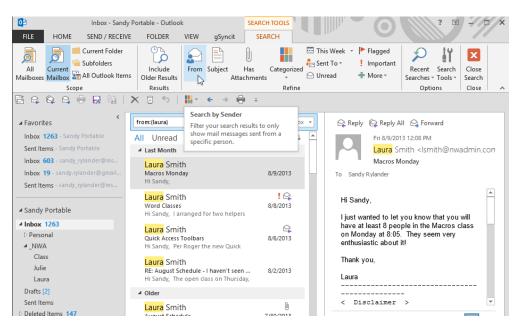

Narrowing the Scope of the Search

Reduce the time it takes to find an item using the Search tab options.

For Example, in the search above I found 138 items that included "Laura". They were either items I sent to her, items she sent to me, or items just mentioning her name. By selecting the From tool first and then typing Laura, I reduced the number of email to 78. I then selected the Subject tool and added the word "Signature" which reduced the number of email to one! Much faster than I could have skimmed 138 email.

1. Click in the Search box, click the From tool and type a name of someone who sent you an email.

 Click back in the Search box after from(laura), click the Subject tool and type signature (or some other subject that you know the sender used) in an email sent to you. Notice how quickly you find the message you need.

Note: These same techniques are available for Contacts, Tasks and Calendar as well.

Expanding the Scope of the Search

Often the item you need to find is in a different folder. Rather than having to search each folder, select Subfolders or All Mailboxes to increase the Scope of your search.

Color Categories

You can add colors to all your Categories to make visual grouping of items better. In addition, these color categories will roam with you if you change computers. You can quickly categorize email by right clicking the email and selecting a category, or selecting an email and then clicking Home, Category on the ribbon. Categories can be applied to all Outlook items: Contacts, Tasks, Email, Calendar and Notes.

One Note Integration

One Note has been integrated with the entire office suite. OneNote Contact, Task and Calendar items can be linked to OneNote and can be sent to OneNote.

Email

Outlook email has many great features to help you view, create, send, save and print. Here are some of the most significant tools:

Messages View

New Display of Read/Unread - New in 2013

All unread messages have a thin blue line on the left side of the message. Hovering the mouse pointer over the line makes it wider. Clicking the narrow blue line of an unread message marks it as read while clicking the broad blue line on a read message returns it to unread. Unread emails are easier to see with their bold blue Subject lines.

Filter Tool - New in 2013

Filter Email is a new tool on the ribbon that allows you to quickly and easily filter your messages.

Preview messages – New in 2013

See which messages demand your immediate attention by viewing up to the first 3 lines of body text. The default number of lines to view is 2.

- Change the number of lines to preview
  - 1. Select View, Message Preview, select the desired number of lines to view or select Off.

Conversations

Emails can be grouped into conversations based on the subject of the email, regardless of the folder that contains the messages (which means sent items are included as well). This grouping hides the older, redundant content of conversations. Clicking on a conversation will show you the content of the latest email in the thread and enable you to quickly read an entire set of messages. You can also easily categorize, move, ignore (delete current and future emails), or mark a complete conversation as read in one click. Once you categorize a conversation, Outlook 2013 will automatically categorize new items that arrive in that conversation!

Conversation View

- Select Conversation View
  - 1. Click the drop-down next to By Date and select Show as Conversations. Then select This Folder.

2. Conversations appear with arrows on the left of the email message. Click the arrow to display the conversation.

Sometimes it will say you need to click the arrow a second time to see even more messages. The email thread will expand to show you email in the Inbox and Sent items folder that are related to this message.

Clean Up Conversations

When a message contains all the previous messages in the Conversation, you can click Clean Up to eliminate the other redundant messages. For example, as people reply to a Conversation, the response is at the top and the previous messages in the Conversation are below. Instead of reviewing each message, keep only the most recent that includes the whole Conversation. Clean Up is even smart enough to keep messages that have attachments, flags, or categories. Clean Up is available on an individual conversation or a whole folder, and can be customized to move the redundant content to any folder in your store. For example, you can move the cleaned-up messages to an archive or filed folder in your mailbox.

Ignore Conversation

If a conversation is no longer relevant to you, you can prevent additional responses from appearing in your Inbox. The Ignore command moves the whole Conversation and any future messages that arrive in the Conversation to the Deleted Items folder.

Docking Sneak Peeks (recreating the 2010 To-Do Bar)

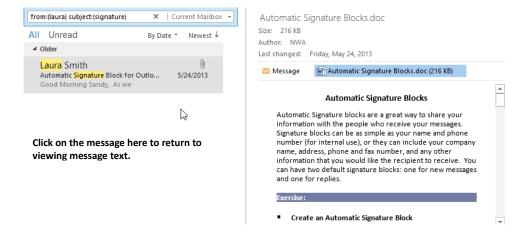

The To-Do Bar in Outlook 2010 displayed Tasks and Calendar while viewing your inbox. That feature has been replaced with docking Sneak Peeks. When you point to the Tasks or Calendar at the bottom of the Outlook screen, a Sneak Peak appears. Clicking on the docking icon in the upper right corner, docks it to the right side of your screen. Click the "x" to remove the docked view.

Attachments

Attachment Preview

View your attachments from within the Reading Pane by clicking on the attachment. To view the email message again, click on the email in the messages pane to the left.

Save Attachments

Save one, many, or all attachments that are sent to you.

Exercise:

- Save an Individual Attachment
  - 1. Select the email with the desired attachment.
  - 2. Right click the Attachment.
  - 3. Select Save As.

AutoCreate

AutoCreate is one of Outlook's greatest productivity features. It creates new items from existing items. If you drag an Outlook item (i.e. an appointment, a contact, a task, an email) to a folder of a different type, Outlook will AutoCreate a new item of that type.

For instance, by simply dragging an email to the Contacts folder, Outlook will AutoCreate a new Contact with the name and address already filled in! You can also drag an email to a task folder and Outlook will AutoCreate a Task. Drag an email to the calendar to AutoCreate an appointment.

Exercise:

AutoCreate a Contact from an Email Message

1. Drag a Message to the People folder.

Outlook AutoCreates a Contact with the name and email address filled in. The body of the message is placed in the Contact Notes area.

- 7. Repeat these steps for the address, phone and fax numbers.
- 9. Click in the notes area and press
  Ctrl + A to select the entire email message.
  Press Delete.

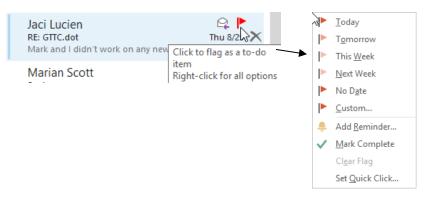

10. Click Save and Close when done.

- AutoCreate a Task from an Email Message
  - 1. Drag a Message to the Tasks folder. Outlook AutoCreates a Task with the subject filled in. The body of the message is placed in the Task's Notes area.
  - 2. If necessary, make modifications to the subject, add a due date, assign the task to someone else, etc. When done, click Save and Close.

Create a Task from an Email with a Click

When you hover over an email, some icons appear. Clicking the flag makes places an item on the Task list. Right-clicking the flag gives you the options shown below.

IMPORTANT! This is not the same as AutoCreating a task. AutoCreate will create a new Task item which allows you to then delete the email. Flagging an item as a task will display the email as a task as well as an email. Deleting from either location will delete it from both displays.

Group and Sort Messages

Grouping, Sorting, and Finding Messages are all very useful features. They can help you retrieve important messages, delete obsolete messages, and organize messages into folders. Below are samples of what each of them does.

Grouping allows messages to be grouped under a heading which can be collapsed or expanded by clicking on the "+" or "-" next to the heading. Notice the Sender name headings below.

Exercise:

- Group Message by drop down at the top of the messages view and click From.
  - 1. On the By drop down at the top of the messages view, click the By From. Notice that messages are now grouped by from instead of date.

- 5. On the By drop down at the top of the messages view, click the By Date. Notice that messages are now grouped by date instead of from.

Sort allows messages to be sorted by a field like Date or Subject. Sorted messages can be grouped, but they don't have to be. Notice that the messages are now sorted by date, but they are not Grouped. There are no collapsible headings.

Exercise:

- Remove Group By
  - 1. Click the drop down next to By Date and deselect Show in Groups.

- Change the Sort Order to Sort Ascending or Descending in By From View
  - 1. Click the drop down to the right of Newest.

- Group by Date with the Newest on Top in By Date View
  - 1. On your own: Change the display to be grouped by Date showing the Newest on Top.

Folders

Create Folders to Organize Messages

Folders are a good way to organize messages. You can create folders to hold messages relating to certain projects, companies, people etc. You organize messages in folders just as you would physical documents in manila folders. Creating folders is quick and easy. Once a folder is created, you can move or copy messages into the folders. Be sure to clean out these folders regularly to avoid huge storage issues.

Exercise:

- Create a Mail Folder
  - 1. Right click the Inbox folder and select New Folder. New folders will automatically be placed under the currently selected folder.

In this case, the folder will be under the Inbox folder.

2. Type the folder name and press Enter.

⊿ In	∡ Inbox 1251

Arrange Folders in any Order – New in 2013

For the first time, you can arrange folders in the order you choose rather than having them arranged in alphabetical order. Simply drag folders to the desired location.

Move, Copy and Delete Messages

Now that you have learned how to Group, Sort and Search, you can use the results of these functions to quickly move or copy messages into folders, or to delete obsolete messages.

Exercise:

- Select desired messages
  - 1. Click the first message and shift + click the last. Selects and highlights all messages from where you click to where you shift click.
  - 2. Ctrl + click to select or deselect subsequent non-sequential messages. Selects or deselects names that you ctrl + click.
- Move messages (message no longer in original folder)
  - 1. Select messages as outlined above.
  - 2. Drag message(s) to desired folder.
- Copy messages (message in both the original folder and the new folder)
  - 1. Select messages as outlined above.
  - 2. Right drag messages to desired folder and select Copy when menu appears.
- Delete Messages

It is very important to delete messages that are no longer needed to prevent your mailbox from becoming huge. Be sure to not only delete messages from your Inbox, but also check your Sent Items, Deleted Items, and Email Folders you create.

Tip! To permanently delete items (bypassing the intermediate Deleted Items stage): Hold the Shift key down while pressing the delete key or clicking the delete tool.

- 1. Select messages as outlined above.
- 2. Press Delete.

Replying to a Message

Inline replies - New in 2013

Reply by typing your response right in the Reading Pane. This allows drafts to be saved automatically! Notice the word [Draft] appears in your email list reminding you to complete the email. Not all formatting options are available Inline. To access additional options, select Pop Out.

- 2. All names that were originally in the To or the CC box will automatically be in the reply.
- 3. Type the desired message and press Send.

Note: Only use Reply To All when absolutely necessary!

Reply and Reply All Improved

Reply and Reply All will always reply to the latest message in the conversation. If you open an older message in the conversation and hit Reply Outlook 2013 will display a warning that allows you to go to the latest message in the conversation.

Forwarding a Message

Exercise:

- Forward a Message
  - 1. Select the email you wish to respond to and click the Forward tool on the Home tab.
  - 2. Select or type the desired recipients in the To box.
  - 3. Type the desired message and press Send.
- Tip! Forwards DO include any attachments sent to you.

Quick Parts gives you the ability to store text and easily insert it into future email simply by selecting it from a drop-down list. Quick Parts can not only save small portions of text, but pages of text and graphics. You can create Table and Quick Part Building Blocks in just seconds. Saving these items enables you to quickly insert your custom tables etc. into an email. The Building Blocks Organizer which can be accessed by right clicking on any Quick Part displayed on Quick Part drop-down allows you to view, sort, insert and delete Building Blocks as well as to edit their properties.

Create a Quick Part

- 1. Select the text you wish to save to a Quick Part.
- 2. On the Insert tab of a new email select Quick Parts, Save Selection to Quick Part Gallery. Make sure you are in the body of the email or the dialog box will be disabled.

Insert Online Picture - New in 2013

You can insert Online Pictures in the message body using Bing image search. To search images, select the Insert, Online Picture button on the ribbon. You can search Office.com Clip Art, Bing or your SkyDrive account.

MailTips

Outlook 2013 includes MailTips, which help you avoid common, but potentially costly or embarrassing mistakes. MailTips alerts can be triggered by actions including clicking Reply All to a large recipient list, sending sensitive information to someone outside your organization, or sending a message to someone who is out of office.

Add File Attachments

Resize Attached Photos

When attaching photos to an email, go to File, Info and view the options available to resize large attached pictures.

Automatic Signature Blocks

Automatic Signature blocks are a great way to share your information with the people who receive your messages. Signature blocks can be as simple as your name and phone number (for internal use), or they can include your company name, address, phone and fax number, and any other information that you would like the recipient to receive. You can have two default signature blocks: one for new messages and one for replies.

Exercise:

Create an Automatic Signature Block

1. Make sure you are in an email message and select Signature, Signatures on the Message tab.

2. Select New.

Add Options to an Email

- 1. Create a new email.
- 2. Click Options tab on the ribbon.
- 3. When the message options appear, select the options you want from the various options, and click OK.
- 4. Complete the email and click Send.

Voting Buttons

Voting Buttons allow you to ask a question to a group of recipients and allow them to respond by clicking on a button. For instance, if you want to know how many people would like to order 500 business cards or 1000 you would ask in the subject line of the email to select the number of business cards desired. The recipients would then click the 500 or the 1000 button. After selecting the button, they are asked if they wish to immediately send the response, or add comments by selecting edit message before sending. Voting buttons do not appear on the sent message; they appear only when the message is received. One great advantage to using voting buttons is the ability to track everyone's responses on one screen.

Delivery and Read Receipt

A delivery receipt will send you when a message it is delivered to a recipient's mailbox where a read receipt is generated only when a message is opened or deleted by the recipient. The delivery receipt will say when a message is read, or if it has been deleted without being read. Be careful not to read too much into this. Someone can read a message in the reading pane and delete the message and it could send a message saying the message was deleted without being read. Conversely, a message can be opened, but the recipient may not have actually read it. The receipt cannot tell you whether the message has actually been read, only that it has been opened.

Direct Replies to

Return messages are sent to other recipients in addition to yourself. Great to use if you are sending a message and know that you wish to have others receive the reply at the same time you do. Perhaps you are working together with others on a project, or perhaps you are going out-of-town and want someone else to handle the reply.

Delay Delivery

Send an email now, but do not deliver before a specific date. Use this option if you are going out-oftown and want to have time to compose and send the message now, but don't want the message received until a future date.

Save a Message

Sometimes you may want to save the text part of an email.

Exercise:

- 1. Open the desired email.
- 2. Select File, Save As.

- 3. When the Save As dialog box appears, select the desired folder, give the file a descriptive file name and click Save. Notice that the file is saved as a .msg, .txt or .htm(l) file.
- Tip! Saving a message as a .txt or .htm(I) file does NOT save the attachment. You can save attachments embedded in a message by saving a message as an .msg file. The disadvantage with using this technique is that you will not see the individual attachments when looking at a file list. You will have to remember which files are in which messages and then open the message to view the file attachments.

Email Etiquette

- 1. Do not use all CAPS in an email, it implies that you are shouting at the person.
- 2. When sending an email to more than one person outside your office, consider placing all names in the BCC area. BCC stands for Blind Carbon Copy, which means recipients cannot see each other's email addresses, nor do they know everyone to whom the message was sent.
- 3. If you are asking many questions, type each on its own numbered or bulleted line rather than including them all in one paragraph. You have a much better chance of getting answers to all of your questions this way.
- 4. Remember people cannot see your facial expressions or hear your inflection.

Automatic Replies (Out of Office)

This option would appear on the File Info tab if this account was set up to work with Exchange. Here are the screens you would see with an Exchange account. Notice that you can set the time for the Automatic Replies to start and end! In addition, you can have 2 messages: Inside and Outside your Organization.

Quick Steps

Quick Steps allows you to consolidate multiple steps into one. It is a great way to boost efficiency and is located on the Home tab for Mail.

Multiple Exchange accounts

Outlook 2013 supports up to 3 Exchange accounts within an Outlook profile. The Ribbon in Outlook 2013 is specific to the account at which you are looking. If you click New Email in the ribbon while looking at the Inbox of your second Exchange account, your new message will be sent from your second Exchange account.

People - Contacts

The People folder is where you store information about people with whom you communicate that are not already in the Global Address List (internal contacts). The notes area in the Contact form is great for tracking important conversations. The Categories box allows you to group contacts (i.e. clients, vendors, etc.).

People Card offers streamlined View and Abilities to Connect - New in 2013

The People Card collects and displays contact information in one place: phone, email address, street address, company information, social media updates, even whether they're available. Here you can schedule a meeting or send an email. Notice the 3 different views: Contact, Notes and What's New (social media updates)

Note: Card View is still available to select from the Ribbon if you prefer that look.

Create a Contact

- Create a Contact
  - 1. Select the People folder.
  - 2. When in Contact view, click the Home, New Contact tool.
  - 3. Type the person's full name in the Full Name box and press tab. Full name can include title (Mr./Mrs./Ms.), name (First/Middle/Last) and suffix (Jr./III).

- 4. Click the Full Name button. Click OK if everything looks correct. This displays how Outlook automatically separates names into first name, last name etc.
- 5. Type Job Title and press tab.
- 6. Type Company name and press tab.
- 7. The File As is already selected so press tab twice. File As determines where this entry will appear in an alphabetical list of contact names.
- 8. Type each Phone number desired. Press tab to go forward box to box and shift + tab to go back box to box.

Tip! When typing phone numbers, you do not need to type the parentheses or the dash, Outlook will do that for you. Also, if the phone number has the same area code as your default area code, Outlook will automatically enter that as well. Outlook asks you to type your default area code when you add your first contact. If your default area code is incorrect, use the following instructions to change it.

To change the default area code, if it is not correct:

- 1. Select Start on the Task bar.
- 2. Select Control Panel.
- 3. Double click Phone and Modem Options, then select Edit.

- 4. Type the correct Area Code in the Area Code box.
- 5. Click OK twice.

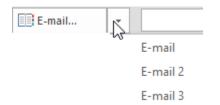

To type or view phone numbers other than the four displayed, click the drop-down arrow to the right of the phone number. Notice there are 19 phone number fields for your use. Also notice that phone numbers that have been entered have a checkmark by them.

9. Enter up to 3 addresses. First selecting the address you wish to enter from the address dropdown list, and then typing the address. If you enter more than one address, be sure to check which address you wish to be the mailing address.

- Tip! When there is a P.O. Box, consider using the Business or Home address, whichever is appropriate, for the mailing address (i.e. P.O. Box) and the Other address for the street address.
- 10. Enter up to 3 email addresses. First select which email address you wish to enter from the dropdown list (Email, Email 2, or Email 3), then type the email address.

Tip! Try to be consistent with how you enter email addresses. If you only have one email, enter it in the email address. If you have more than one, enter the business email in Email and home email in Email 2 etc.

64 Outlook 2013 & 2016

- 11. Enter Web page address if desired. This address will turn blue and link to the internet if it is clicked and you are connected to the internet.
- 12. Type notes in the large notes area if desired.
  - Tip! This is a great place to keep notes on important conversations. Type the date and your initials (if this contact is shared) and type in the message. Put messages in reverse chronological order as shown below.

Find a Contact

There are two ways in Address Cards View to find a contact using the File As field (usually the person's last name): 1) use the Alphabetical Index on the left side of the screen or 2) click the name of a contact and start typing the last name of the person you would like to find.

To find contacts by any information in their contact record you must use the Find tool.

- Find a Contact in Address Card View Using the Alphabetical Index
  - 1. Click the R on the alphabet on the left side of the screen You may have to use the horizontal scroll bar at the bottom of the screen to move right if the name does not appear.

<sup>66</sup> Outlook 2013 & 2016

- Find a Contact by Clicking on a name and Typing the Last name
  - 1. Click a name and then start typing the last name of the person you wish to find. Outlook goes to that name.

Categories

Categories are a great way to group Contacts. You can assign as many Categories as you wish to a Contact. For instance you can assign a Contact to the Client and Holiday Card categories, or the Vendor Category. Outlook provides a master category list with several categories already created. You can choose to use these categories or delete them and create your own. You can view your Contacts by Category to quickly look at Contacts that belong to a certain group.

Add/Delete Categories from the Color Categories List

It is very easy to add or delete categories from the Color Categories List. Adding or deleting items from this list DOES NOT add or delete them from your Contacts. This list is simply makes the Categories available to be chosen for Contacts when you add or edit them.

- 1. Open a Contact and click Categorize and select All Categories.
- 2. Click New and Type B-Accounting Client in the Name box. Categories are always sorted alphabetically, so if you want all your business contacts together, you may wish to add a "B" to the front of each business contact category.
- 3. Select a color and Shortcut Key (optional).

ght. Name	onal To-Do	Shortcut key	New
Call	Add New Cat	egory N	Rename Delete
✓ B Clier B L Cli B L Cli B Serv B Sub	Name: B Accounting Client Color: Shortcut	Key: (None) V	Color: Shortcut Key: (None)

4. Click OK.

Adds the Category to the list. Adding the Category to the Master Category List does not apply this Category to the current Contact. To do that, you must check the appropriate boxes on the Category list.

- 5. Continue to add as many Categories as you want.
- 6. Delete a Category by selecting the category to be deleted and click Delete.
- 7. Click OK when done.

Meeting Reply

Scheduling a meeting is as easy as replying to the message. While reading a message, you can schedule a meeting with all the message recipients with the new Meeting Reply command. All the messages recipients are added to a new a meeting request in one click.

Group Meetings are Easier to Manage

When updating a group meetings agenda, attendees receive an informational update, rather than having to reaccept the meeting. Changes are also highlighted in the meeting update.

Quick View

When you receive a meeting request, Quick View helps you better understand how a meeting request affects your calendar. When creating or responding to a meeting request, a calendar snapshot appears in the meeting request. You can instantly review any conflicts or adjacent items on your calendar without ever leaving the meeting request.

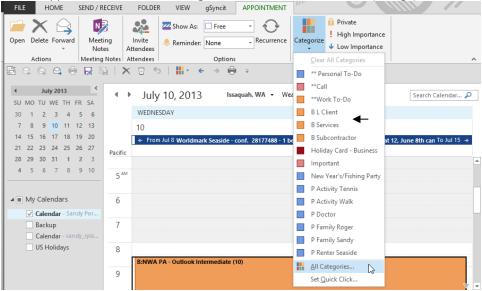

We need to meet and go over the new plans.

Color/Categorize Appointments

Dismiss Multiple Reminders At Once with Dismiss All

If multiple reminders occur at the same time, Microsoft Outlook combines them into one dialog box. This reduces clutter, especially when starting Outlook after the reminder time for several items has passed, such as when you come back from being out of the office. You can dismiss reminders individually or all at once with the Dismiss All button. You can also selectively dismiss items using the selection techniques you learned in this manual.

In Calendar, the Navigation Pane shows a list of your calendars under My Calendars. This list includes your default primary calendar in Outlook that displays your free/busy time to other people, and where meeting requests that you accepted are saved.

Other calendars, or secondary calendars, can include calendars that you created to track a project, a personal schedule, or some other calendar event that you do not want to mix with the items on your default calendar.

Tip! When you share your default calendar, appointments on secondary calendars are not displayed to other people and do not affect your free/busy availability.

92 Outlook 2013 & 2016

Open a Calendar in a New Window

- 1. In Calendar view, in the Navigation Pane, right-click the name of another calendar.

Task Views

1. Click the View desired from the current view group on the Home tab. By category and by person responsible are very useful, as are completed tasks and active tasks. Simple list shows both completed and active tasks.

Delete Tasks or Mark them as Done

Delete a Task

- 1. Select the task.
- 2. Click the Delete tool on the toolbar or right click the task and select Delete.

Appendix A – Outlook 2016 Enhancements

Office 365 subscription, which includes Outlook 2016 is constantly evolving and adding features. Currently some of the great new features include:

- Email Attachments
  - Easily insert recently used documents in an email
  - Get a menu of options for what to do with attachments you receive
  - A file that has been saved on OneDrive will, by default, send as a link rather than an attachment.
- Clutter

Clutter uses criteria that keeps evolving to place low priority mail in a separate folder.

- Tell Me What you want to do
- One Click Archiving
- Smart Lookup

Outlook 2016 (and all the 2016 Office applications) have the Smart Lookup feature which uses Bing integration as a research tool.

Better performance/Search

Outlook opens more quickly and has improved the performance of the Search feature which is faster and will search not only locally, but also on the Exchange server.

 Groups - lets users chat, share common calendars, OneDrive-hosted files, and OneNote notebooks

Email Attachments

In Outlook 2016, there are three important changes in regarding email attachments.

Send a Link rather than an Attachment if the document is stored in a Cloud location like OneDrive

Clicking on the Attach File icon will now open a menu instead of a browser dialog to attach a file.

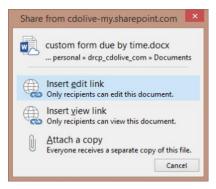

One of the new options is to "Browse Web Locations". This allows you to access your online storage like OneDrive and Office 365 SharePoint (OneDrive for Business) without needing to download the file to your computer first.

By default, the recipient will receive a link to the file with editing permissions. You can click on the down arrow of the attachment to change the editing permissions for the recipient to "view" only or to "Attach as copy" to send an actual attachment.

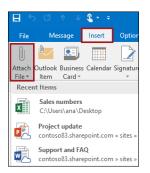

If the file you choose is stored online, you are offered the choice of inserting a link or a copy of the attachment- links are the default. Links to documents can be viewed and edited using SharePoint.

Attach Recently Used Documents

When you select Attach file a list of the 12 most recently accessed files appears.

1. Select a document from the drop-down list displayed after clicking the Attach File tool on the ribbon.

Attachment Handling

Attachments in messages you receive now appear as buttons in the attachment line. Each button has a menu with attachment options: open, save, preview, delete, etc.

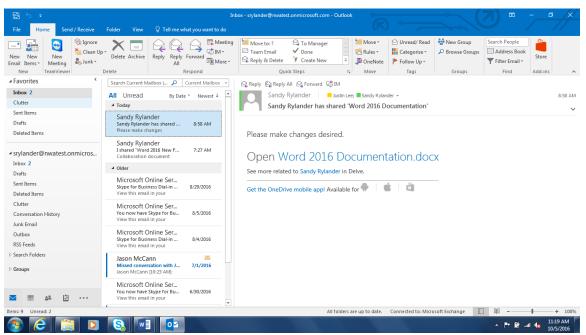

W		JP,DOT MB
		Preview
Her	-	O pen
Jera	÷	Quick Print
	R	Save As
	22	Save All Attachments
Ser To:	×	Remove Attachment
	ħ	⊆ору
nev	ER.	Select All

Clutter - sort low priority messages

Clutter helps you move low priority messages out of your Inbox so that you can easily scan for important messages. Clutter analyzes your emails, and based on your past behavior, determines the messages that you're most likely to ignore. It then automatically moves those messages to a folder called Clutter so that you can review them later.

You can even help Clutter learn your preferences faster by manually moving items in or out of the Clutter folder.

Outlook 2013 & 2016 103

NOTE: If you bought Office 2016 for Windows as a one-time purchase, and you don't have an Office 365 subscription, you won't have access to some features, such as Clutter. Going forward, there will be regular updates with new features where you'll need to have an Office 365 subscription to use them.

Tell Me What You Want to Do

The new Light Bulb icon in the Ribbon with "Tell me what you want to do..." is a lot more than just a replacement of the Help Question Mark icon.

When you type something in the Tell Me field, you'll actually search through Outlook's list of commands which are then also useable from list of results.

So, if you for instance don't know how to Create/Modify Automatic Signatures, simply type "Sig" in the Tell Me field and you can click on the command from the results.

Clicking on the "Get Help" link will open the regular Help viewer and the "Smart Lookup" link will open an "Insights" pane in Outlook and performs a web search with Bing.

When you click in the Tell Me box, you'll also see a list of the last five commands you ran from within Tell Me, saving you time getting to the feature you want faster.

One Click Archiving (Office 365)

Outlook 2016 includes a new feature called one-click archiving. This feature allows you to quickly move an item from your Inbox or another folder to an archive folder. An archived item (or items) remains accessible, but doesn't clutter your Inbox.

Archive messages with a single click

- 1. Choose one or more messages in your folder to archive.
- 2. On the ribbon, in the Delete group, choose Archive.

NOTES: If you haven't previously set up an archive folder, you'll get this prompt:

Set up One-Click Archive		?	×
We didn't find an existin	g archive folder. Create a new 1	folder called "Archive"?
Create archive folder	Choose existing folder	Cancel

Choose one of the following:

- Create archive folder.
- Choose existing folder.
- 3. Choose the message in the message list you want to archive, and then choose Archive.

As soon as you choose Archive, messages are immediately moved to the archive folder you've specified. If you archive a message by mistake, go to the archive folder and move the message back to your Inbox.

Smart Lookup

Outlook 2016 (and all the 2016 Office applications) have the Smart Lookup feature which uses Bing integration as a research tool.

To use Smart Lookup:

- 1. Select a word or phrase, right-click it, and choose Smart Lookup.
- The Insights pane, powered by Bing, appears and opens with definitions, Wiki articles, and top related searches from the web.
   You can also get to Smart Lookup any time by going to Review > Smart Lookup and entering a query there.

Search

Outlook 2016 email search is faster, more reliable and provides improved performance. You can seamlessly search email across your local computer, Exchange 16 server or Office 365 Mailbox.

Outlook makes it easier to find email by offering keyword and people suggestions based on your mailbox content from Exchange 2016. You can quickly find email from someone that you've been exchanging emails with or a project you're working on. Simply start typing someone's name or a keyword in the search box to see suggestions from Exchange 2016.

Groups - (Office 365 work or school account)

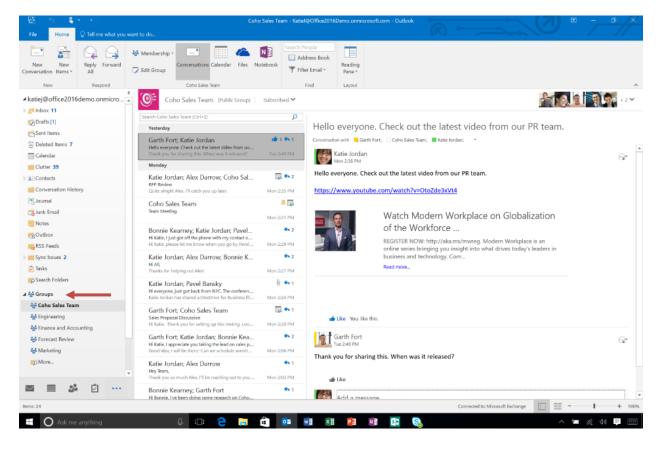

Groups lets users chat instead of email which reduces the strain on their inbox. Groups also lets users share common calendars, OneDrive-hosted files, and OneNote notebooks. Groups are just below your inbox in the left-hand navigation column, below drafts, sent items, and junk mail. In short, a group is basically a shared mailbox you can subscribe to (or even create yourself) and also provides a Calendar and a shared storage location on OneDrive for Business.

Outlook 2016 now includes support to create, join and manage Office 365 Groups so you'll no longer have to do that via Outlook on the Web (OWA).

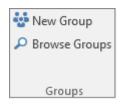

Ribbon commands for Office 365 Groups.

Note: Office 365 Groups requires an Office 365 for Business account. This feature is (currently) not part of Exchange 2016 on-premises.

Group Buttons on Ribbon - Browse and Create Groups

Two new buttons on Outlook 2016 ribbon's Home tab make it easier to browse and create groups.

Create a Group

Groups are the next generation of distribution lists. They provide a effective way to communicate and collaborate with team members. A group is a shared workspace for email, conversations, files, and calendar events.

1. Open Outlook 2016, select a group, and, on the Home tab, choose New Group.

2. In the Create Group window, enter the required information, including Name, Group ID, and Privacy level, (Public or Private).

NOTE: You won't be able to change the group ID after you create the group.

3. Check the subscription box to let members receive the group's emails in their regular Inbox or keep it un-checked if you prefer that they access the group's mail only from the group's Inbox, and then click OK.

Search for, join, and go to a group in Outlook 2016

You may be added to a group by the group's admin and want to find out more. You can also search for groups and join them.

Search for a group to join

When you know the name of a group that you want to join, search for that group by doing the following

- 1. On the Home tab, enter the group name in the Search People box.
- 2. When you find the group that you're looking for, select it from the list.

3. On the group's contact card, click Join.

If the group is private, a request will be sent to the group's admin, who can accept or decline the request.

Join a group from an email

You might receive an email message from a group that you're not a member of and decide to join the group.

 Select Join on the group header in the right corner of the reading pane. If the group is private, you'll see Request to Join instead, and will be asked to provide a reason for joining.

- 2. Wait for your request to go through, or for the group's admin to add you if you're trying to join a private group.
- 3. Once you've joined the group, you'll see detailed membership status as well as a shortcut to navigate to the group's Inbox in the group's header.

Go to a group that you were added to as a member

When you're added to a group, you receive an email notification.

1. Open the email and click Go to the group link.
