Tech Assistance Office Hour: Focus on Website Project Planning

Join us for this open forum session where Laura S. Quinn answers questions about website projects. This session is a follow up session to the introductory website planning session on September 19th. There was no planned agenda for this session--it was designed to be a chance to ask general questions about website builds, planning for a new website, etc.

The office hours were held on October 3rd, 2023 from 3-4 pm on Zoom.

Please note: the purpose of this session was to answer general questions about website builds, starting a project, and planning for a build. Future sessions cover more technical aspects of website builds.
