

Texas Immigration Law Council seeks Equal Justice Works Fellow - Technology Innovation Specialist

Texas Immigration Law Council is hiring an Equal Justice Works Fellow - Technology Innovation Specialist as part of its Economic Justice Initiative, which will implement Texas's new licensed legal paraprofessional program. The Fellow will leverage technology to help noncitizens better understand their rights and access basic civil legal services.

This two-year fellowship offers a competitive salary with a range between $90,000-120,000, commensurate with experience, education, and training. Texas Immigration Law Council's benefits and salaries are designed to support the needs of all employees and fellows, including outstanding insurance coverage, generous time-off policies, flexible work hours, 401k, and ample professional growth opportunities.

Fellowship start date is flexible, from January 1 - April 1, 2025. This position is remote within Texas.
